

CREATIVE WRITING MINOR

The Creative Writing minor enhances students' skills in writing, creativity, and critical thinking. A complement to any major, the curriculum prepares students to think and write imaginatively, independently, and in community - abilities necessary for success in various careers and graduate school.

English majors and minors must complete the required course ENG 250 Critical Approaches to Literature with a minimum grade of "C" before registering for upper-division courses in English.

A minimum of 21 credits is required for a Minor in Creative Writing including:
